

COMMUNITY JUSTICE AUTHORITIES

The eight Community Justice Authorities (CJAs) in Scotland have been fully operational from April 2007. The CJAs provide a co-ordinated approach to planning and monitoring the delivery of offender services by planning, managing performance and reporting on the performance of Local Authority Criminal Justice Services. Their aim is to target services to reduce re-offending and to ensure close co-operation between community and prison services to aid the rehabilitation of offenders. Each CJA consists of a Chief Officer, Elected Members of Local Authorities and support staff.
